Fears for pair kicked out of home in freezing weather

HOMELESS: Bronwyn Chambers and Acerelle Kosmos Valentine outside their boarded-up home with their possessions

BY SOPHIE SCOTT
sophie.scott@hpnorthants.co.uk

NEIGHBOURS are concerned that a family may die in the cold weather after they were evicted with 'nowhere to go' as temperatures plummeted.

Bronwyn Chambers, 63, and 33-year-old son Acerelle Kosmos Valentine were told by Northampton Borough Council to leave their home of 27 years on Friday for 'anti-social behaviour' issues.

The pair were not offered any alternative accommodation and spent the bitterly cold weekend living in a disused garage.

As they were evicted from their home, in Old Barn Court, Northampton, they are classed by the authority as being 'intentionally homeless' and are therefore not a priority for accommodation.

Neighbour Roger Arterton was one of a group of eight residents who stepped in to try to help them.

He said: "My problem is not really that they have been evicted as I can see why that happened.

"But they are both clearly vulnerable and no one was really willing to get them somewhere warm.

"I mean, they can find a kennel for their dogs to stay but they are happy to let people sleep on the street.

"They do need help but I am really worried that any help might come too late.

"They could die out there in this weather. I found them huddled in the snow on Friday. Something permanent needs to be done" On Tuesday, they were removed from the garage, which was then boarded up by the council, and were later that evening taken to Oasis House as part of the Severe Weather Emergency Protocol.

Ms Chambers said: "The neighbours who have tried to help have been really great. I just don't know where we are going to go."

Cllr Mary Markham, Borough Council cabinet member for housing, said: "We are aware of the issue and trying to help as best we can using the powers available to us.

"For almost two years we have tried to help the couple recognise that their behaviour could result in eviction.

"Unfortunately, after exploring all alternatives we have had to take the issue to seek a Possession Order through the courts.

"Housing officers spoke to the pair last Thursday ahead of the eviction, explained what was happening and what they needed to do to next.

"It was also explained that due to their circumstances the council would have no duty to rehome them.

"An appointment was made for the following day to look at their options, but the couple failed to attend.

"We met the couple again on Tuesday. Housing officers have offered advice about where they can go and what help is out there, but we cannot consider them for temporary accommodation."

Funding gap could close youth counselling service

BY ANNABEL HOWARD

annabel.howard@hpnorthants.co.uk

A COUNSELLING service for young people could close on June 7 if they do not find the £10k a month it needs to run.

The Lowdown, a charity based in Kingswell Street, Northampton, is appealing to residents to dig deep and donate an hour of their time to raise money for the initiative.

Director Dawn Wright said: "An hour's worth of your salary, a sponsored silence or any sort of activity. An hour could make the difference in the life of a suicidal teenager."

Trained counsellors and medical staff run their sessions for free, including sexual health checks.

Dawn also said it costs about £12 an hour to cover the costs of bills and the general running of the service.

The scheme helps more than 1,000 12-25 year olds a month in sexual health, bullying and depression.

She added: "A lot of similar charities have had to close down due to the recession and I think we are now one of the last in the area. I can't imagine where these young people would go otherwise.

APPEAL: Director Dawn Wright with a group of volunteers at The Lowdown which is facing closure

"People should donate because it could your son, daughter, pupil or sibling who needs this help."

"A lot of young people feel they can't lean on friends and family but need the anonymity that we can offer."

About 10,172 young people have made contact since January, a 23 per cent increase on last year.

Volunteer of two years Tiff Cotterill, 27, (pictured third from left) spent her first year on shift support then has spent the past year as a counsellor.

She said: "We are all here for the same reason; to help young people who feel they have nowhere else to go.

"It would be absolutely devastating if we closed."

The NHS donates one third of the £120k it needs per year to run.

HELP US: Petrina Alderman from NANNA with rescue dog Buddy who is recovering from cancer

Animal charity in crisis as it faces unpaid bills of £7,000

THE co-founder of a county animal charity would sell her own home rather than see it close its doors.

Petrina Alderman is prepared to take this drastic action in order to save the animals - putting their welfare ahead of her own.

At the moment Northamptonshire Animals Need Nurturing and Adoption (NANNA) has

£7,000 of food and vets bills which need to be paid. NANNA has faced different problems in the past two or three years but this is the worst crisis it has ever had to deal with.

An increase in the number of animals coming through its door is one of the reasons costs have gone up.

Petrina said: "I would sell my own home to keep the animals safe."

"I own a three bed semi detached in Irthlingborough which I would sell if necessary. I do not want the doors to shut and need people to help. They do not have to give cash. If they could give us food for the animals then we could use the money we would have spent on food on the bills."

"We are not accepting any more animals and in the last week or so have turned away 29 cats and 19 dogs."

"We are still re-homing animals."

If you can help call NANNA on 01933 650372 or 07921 215049.

DRAINAGE WORK SET TO IMPROVE SILVERSTONE CIRCUIT AHEAD OF GP
IMPROVEMENT work is taking place at Silverstone ahead of the British Grand Prix in June.

Work includes additional drainage being excavated over an area covering 11 grassed car parks, spine drains to aid the discharge of surface water, re-shaping ditches to increase flow rates and new drainage pipes.

The work is in response to heavy rain last year which caused major problems at the site.

PEOPLE URGED TO CHECK THEIR SMOKE ALARM AS CLOCKS CHANGE
RESIDENTS across the county are reminded to test their smoke alarms when they put their clocks forward this weekend.

A working smoke alarm can buy a family the valuable time they need to get out, stay out and call 999.

People are more than four times as likely to die in a fire if they don't have a working alarm.

By pushing the test button on every smoke alarm, people could save the lives of their nearest and dearest.

Two rescues after canal blaze

THE fire service had to rescue a man from an 'unsafe' jetty after it was damaged following a fire on a barge.

A 45ft canal boat was destroyed in a blaze just before 4am on Saturday.

One man was evacuated from the vessel, which was moored on the Grand Union Canal just off Towcester Road, Northampton, by crews from Mereway, the Mounts and Moulton.

He was treated at the scene for smoke inhalation.

There were two gas cylinders on the boat and the blaze was put out about two hours later. Firemen used their COBRA technology to help douse the flames.

A few hours later at 11.15am, crews from the same stations were called to rescue a man and two dogs from an adjoining jetty.

Access to the jetty and other boats had been sealed off on Monday.

A spokeswoman from the service said: "It looks like the fire on the boat damaged the pontoon."

Initial investigations could not identify a cause for the fire.

Prison officer jailed for selling Bulger killer details

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@HPnorthants.co.uk

A PRISON guard who sold secrets about James Bulger's killer Jon Venables to The Sun to clear his credit card debts has been jailed.

Richard Trunkfield, 31, of Ashley Lane, Moulton, an operational support officer at HMP Woodhill in Milton Keynes, called journalists offering information about Venables being held in isolation and even his eating habits.

He made £3,350 by fuelling five stories including prison rumours that the child murderer's family were refusing to visit him behind bars.

worked for the prison service for five years, got the idea to ring The Sun after gossiping with colleagues that the national paper would pay for information on the high-profile inmate.

Venables, now living under an assumed identity, was convicted with Robert Thompson of killing toddler James Bulger in 1993 when they were both ten.

He was recalled to prison in 2010 after being suspected of child porn offences.

Trunkfield was exposed when Sun journalists' emails were passed to Operation Elveden detectives with his name and number.

He had taken between ten-15 calls from reporters, confirming Venables' love of burger and chips. He was also behind a story that Venables had been removed from the high security jail under armed guard.

Jailing Trunkfield for 16 months the judge, Mr Justice Fulford said: "The defendant's actions could have proved highly damaging to the prison service in this country. He hoped to improve his short term financial position."

Trunkfield was also ordered to pay back £3,730.99 within a month.

He admitted one count of misconduct in a public office, in March and April 2010. He has since resigned from the service. Venables is no longer at the prison.

Brian talks Enterprise with the PM at No.10

BY LAWRENCE JOHN
lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

ONE of the town's MPs has been in Downing Street fighting Northampton's corner.

Northampton South MP Brian Binley spoke to the Prime Minister on Tuesday about the town's Enterprise Zone.

The MP is calling for it to be given the same status as other Enterprise Zones across the country and spent half an hour with David Cameron discussing the issue.

Mr Binley said: "I had a very good meeting with David Cameron.

"I pressed him on the issue of Enterprise Zones as I would like to see the Northampton one given capital allowances.

"This would mean those companies or businesses which start up in the Northampton Enterprise Zone will be able to reclaim money back they have spent on equipment and furniture for the first five years.

"There are Enterprise Zones in the North of England and Wales which have what is known as 'assisted status' as they are in poor areas.

"The Northampton Enterprise Zone is on what is seen a wealthy part of the country and does not get this status.

IN OUR CORNER: Brian Binley MP

"I think we should get this if we are trying to attract global investment from companies from around the world.

"We want companies to come to Northampton and I argued with the PM that having 'assisted status' was unfair.

"What I want is for there to be a level playing field so we in Northampton can have the same chance as everyone else.

"I hope he will be able to provide our Enterprise Zone with these capital allowances so it would then create a fairer competition.

"The PM did say he would go away and talk with the treasury and come back to me.

"I am hopeful of success."

The Northampton Enterprise Zone was born on August 17, 2011, as one of just a handful of such areas set up to stimulate economic growth in the UK.

In its first year, it has already clocked up a number of key milestones and the area is primed to meet the challenge of creating jobs and encouraging businesses to invest.

It has a number of projects which it is working on to improve the area, including a £20 million revamp of Northampton's train station.

The railway is seen as essential as it is a gateway to the town.

Located within the Northampton Enterprise Zone, the facility will be almost twice the size of the existing building.

Construction is due to start this summer with completion next year.

NEW START: The new developments in the town centre include new student accommodation

Boost for the town's 'Big 6' revamp

A FURTHER £14.5 million will be invested in Northampton by the West Northamptonshire Development Corporation over the next year.

The Government body published its last ever Business Plan, which covers Northampton's 'Big Six' regeneration schemes.

The £14.5m from WNDC, which will cease to operate at the end of next March, will 'support' those projects.

Peter Mawson, WNDC's chief executive, said: "We have entered a defining period in the transformation of Northampton.

"During this year, we will see new local landmarks start to rise and barriers to progress begin to fall. This includes the construction of a £20m railway station, a modern bus interchange and a state-of-the-art innovation centre.

"In the current climate, there are few parts of the country that can boast such extensive town centre development. It is the culmination of almost a decade of intense preparation and large-scale investment. By March 2014, we will have invested over £100m in the development of West Northamptonshire."

CONCERNS: Cllr Andrew Grant (left) and our coverage last week of the damning child services report (right)

Call for cabinet member's resignation is defeated

OPPOSITION attempts to oust the cabinet member for children's services in light of last week's shocking Ofsted report have failed.

Both the Liberal Democrat and Labour parties at Northamptonshire County Council put forward a motion for Cllr Andrew Grant's resignation, but were defeated by the Conservative majority, at last week's meeting.

The damning report from Ofsted highlighted how 'weaknesses' in child services in the county had not effectively protected young people from harm.

Leader of the Liberal Democrats, Cllr Brendan Glynnane, said: "The failure to keep children at risk of harm safe is unforgivable. The responsibility in law for child protection lies with the cabinet member – he should have done the decent thing and resigned.

"How are the public supposed to have faith in him fixing the deep catalogue of shocking failures?"

Cllr Grant said: "The motion calling for my resignation was simple politicking by the opposition in the run up to the upcoming council elections."

He added: "Last autumn it came to our attention that there were concerns about the safeguarding of at risk children within our organisation. We immediately took a number of proactive steps to deal with this."

Road safety needs to be a 'top' priority

BY LAWRENCE JOHN

lawrencejohn@hpnorthants.co.uk

ROAD safety in Northamptonshire needs to be top of the agenda.

This is the feeling of the leader of the Liberal Democrats on the county council, Cllr Brendan Glynnane.

He was speaking after new figures were released on the Department of Transport website about the number of accidents, injuries and fatalities which have occurred on the county's roads from 2005 - 2011.

The statistics show the number of deaths on the county's roads from 2005 - 2011 were: 42 in 2005, 74 in 2006, 56 in 2007, 35 in 2008, 34 people in 2009, 24 in 2010 and 19 in 2011.

So far this year six people have died on the county's roads. Last year there were 36 fatalities.

Cllr Glynnane said: "There needs to be a cross party meeting on road safety.

"This issue has been brought up again and again but no concrete action has been taken.

"Maybe it would take a cross party approach to make this happen and it would not be so political.

"I don't know how the election in May will turn out but road safety should be top of the list of things to be done.

"There has to be a drive to get things done from all parties along with the Police and Crime Commissioner.

"In my opinion the county council should take the lead on this as they are in charge of the highways in Northamptonshire.

"I think there needs to be a meeting maybe over a five/six week period where we could call agencies like Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents (ROSPA).

"We need to get the facts and then see what funding we have and what can be done.

"There needs to be political will to make this happen."

The Road Safety Comparison figures from the Department of Transport can be found at: www.road-collisions.dft.gov.uk

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Trevor Skidmore feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service the Northampton, Kettering, Wellingborough & Corby areas and Trevor is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Trevor a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

GRATEFUL: Money raised by Year 6 students at Hackleton Primary has been replaced by a donor after the theft

Raided school given boost by 'kind' donor

BY SOPHIE SCOTT
sophie.scott@northants.co.uk

A SCHOOL which had hundreds of pounds of fundraising money stolen during a break-in has been left feeling 'touched' after a donation covering the theft was given to them.

Thieves stole almost £1,000 from three village schools, Hackleton and Little Houghton Primaries and Little Houghton Day Nursery, earlier this month, as reported in the Herald & Post. Hackleton Primary was on its way to raising £3,000 for Paralympic skier Anna Turney to purchase new equipment in her bid for the 2016 Brazil Paralympics.

There was £309 in the safe from Year 6's efforts, which was part of the £1,700 already raised.

Now a man from Towcester, who wants to remain anonymous, has handed over £650 of his own money to help them out after hearing about the theft.

Carole Parker, business manager at the school, said: "This has really got the feel-good factor. The children have made the man a thank you card. They are so pleased and he was so kind to do this.

"It's not something you come across very often these days. He is not connected to the school in any way.

"We are so touched and feel so grateful to receive this money from this donor."

■ Northamptonshire Police are still appealing for information about the break-ins. Anyone with information is asked to call them on 101.

HART IS NO 1 WITH DRINKERS

A FAMILY-run brewery set up last year has been named as the winner of an online search to find the county's favourite locally-brewed ale.

Hart No 1 – produced by Wellingborough based Hart Family Brewers – won the poll conducted by Northampton bar Behind The Bus Stop, earning almost 40 per cent of the vote. More than 300 people voted in the poll, carried out on social networking site Facebook, with Hart No 1 earning 128 votes.

This was 70 more than nearest rival Wot's Occurring, produced by the Great Oakley brewery.

£7k wheelchair will improve Daniel's life

BY LAWRENCE JOHN

lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

A NINE-year-old boy is hoping a charity will come to his rescue to provide him with a new electric wheelchair.

Daniel Stanton, from Northampton, urgently needs a powered chair as his health is deteriorating. He suffers from Ehler-Danlos Syndrome which means he has severe hypermobility and fragile skin.

For this reason he is not allowed to do anything that will cause impact on his joints.

The powered machine, which costs £7,455, is crucial in giving him some independence in life, whether it is around the home, out and about with the family or with his friends at school.

His mum Michelle Stanton was voted 2012 Carer of the Year in the Northamptonshire Jane Roebuck Awards.

She said: "It is stopping him going out and he cannot do things independently.

"His wheelchair has been falling apart for about six months.

"The first thing which happened was the handle at the back snapped off.

"His health is deteriorating badly and he is struggling to walk and he is not sleeping well.

"This will continue until he is stuck in his wheelchair.

"Getting a new wheelchair will improve his quality of life.

"We paid for Daniel's old manual wheelchair ourselves, but when we found out what the cost of a powered replacement would be we were truly shocked."

Daniel had been virtually housebound for nearly five months, since his manual wheelchair broke last autumn.

HELPING HAND: Daniel Stanton, nine, and inset, his mother Michelle

To help with the cost of the wheelchair Michelle turned to disability charity Newlife Foundation. Newlife has awarded £115,761 to fund 68 equipment grants for children in Northamptonshire. Daniel is on their waiting list for support.

Newlife CEO Sheila Brown OBE said: "Because of the huge demand we are calling on 'local heroes' to help us raise money to fund equipment in Northamptonshire. Newlife guarantees that 100 per cent of any gift or donation will go directly to support disabled children in the county."

If you think you can help the charity then contact the Newlife Community Fundraising Team on freephone 0800 988 4640.

Residents asked to help stop ravers in their tracks

NORTHAMPTONSHIRE Police have asked residents to be alert to any illegal raves that may occur over the bank holiday weekend.

Officers have issued a warning to people living and working in rural communities across the county to be vigilant towards the possibility of illegal raves over the next few days.

Police are determined to maintain their robust approach to such events and are encouraging support from rural communities to be their eyes and ears, for the best chance of preventing a rave before it starts.

Landowners are also encouraged to take measures to prevent access to their land, such as keeping gates secure and entrance ways to fields blocked. Barns and other out-buildings should also be kept secure.

PC Claire Salmon, from the Rural Crime Team, said: "As always, we encourage people to report any suspicious circumstances to us on 101.

"We want to hear from you if you notice cars driving slowly and appearing to be looking at fields, outbuildings and barns.

"If you spot any potential markings at locations, such as paint marks on the road surface or ribbons on gates and in hedges.

"If you notice a number of vehicles arriving at a location and suspect a rave may be starting, please call 999 immediately."

Alternatively, information about potential raves can be given anonymously by calling Crimestoppers on 0800

Cops release image of man they want to speak to about attack

THIS man is wanted in connection with an assault last summer.

Cagri Ufacik is wanted by Northamptonshire Police after a 19-year-old man suffered serious facial injuries in an attack.

The victim required extensive surgery after the incident on July 10.

He was found by a member of the public at about 4.30am, at the junction of Barrack Road and Regent Square in Northampton.

Detective Constable

Cathy O'Connor, who is leading the investigation, said: "We have carried out a number of enquiries since the incident last year.

"However, we believe there are people with information still out there.

"We believe that Mr Cagri Ufacik, who we have released a picture of, may have vital information about the incident and we would urge him or anyone who may know of his whereabouts to contact us on 101."

People digging deep to help fire victims

BY LAWRENCE JOHN

lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

COMMUNITIES across the country have rallied behind a family from Northampton whose house was severely damaged in a blaze.

Anthony Eales rescued his three children from the fire which broke out inside their home in Arbour View Court in Thorplands, Northampton, at 8.25pm on Monday, March 18.

Once six-year-old Jayden Eales was out of the house, Anthony went back for two-year-old Kayla and nine-year-old Sean.

All the children are back with their family but Anthony is still being treated in hospital in Nottingham for smoke inhalation and burns.

He is currently sedated due to his injuries.

Anthony's brother-in-law, Lee Eastaff, along with the help of some friends organised an appeal for clothes and furniture to replace the items lost in the fire.

Lee said: "What I need now is a place to store all the items.

"I have ten houses which are full of clothing and furniture.

"Whatever we do not use we will donate to charity.

"People have been very generous and I have been overwhelmed by the support.

"I thought we would get a few donations but I did not expect to get as much as we have.

"We have houses in Northampton, London, Luton, Manchester, Birmingham and

DAMAGE: The house in Arbour View Court in Thorplands, Northampton

Scotland full of items. The problem is now I need somewhere to get all this stored and I hope someone could come forward to help.

"Maybe a business could lend us the use of a building or storage unit."

Mr Eastaff said the house in Thorplands had not been assessed to see if it was safe to move back into but this will be done in the coming weeks.

He added: "Hopefully we will hear soon but at the moment things are up in the air."

Anyone who can help to store the furniture should call 07824904898.

The Fire and Rescue Service said the cause of the fire was most likely electrical.

Cable launches £1.2m jobs development fund

VINCE Cable MP paid a visit to Northampton to launch a £1.2 million Enterprise Partnership fund to develop the county's High Performance Technologies (HPT) sector and employment.

The Secretary of State for Business, Innovation and Skills was in town last Thursday as part of Science and Engineering week at the University of Northampton.

The money comes from a successful bid to the Government's Regional Growth Fund by the Partnership to operate until 2016.

Head of investment at the Enterprise, Tim Bagshaw, said: "We have identified that access to finance is a major restraint to growth so we're delighted to launch such a considerable fund to help address this issue.

"We have secured this funding to directly address these problems and help businesses in the county create and safeguard jobs and to continue to grow and innovate."

Council should get final say on development

FOR over four years the West Northamptonshire Joint Planning Committee (WNJPC) has been trying to push through a major expansion strategy that would allow building on greenfield sites, mainly around Northampton borough, including land between Collingtree and East Hunsbury.

It argued that it had no choice, that housing targets were set by the East Midlands Regional Strategy and 'No' was not an option.

The WNJPC is made up of the three councils of Daventry, South Northants and Northampton Borough Council, and, rather like the EU, is a body that even though no one voted for it, seems to have the last word on local decisions.

A planning inspector will start an inquiry into the latest version of the Expansion Strategy (still based on regional targets) on April 16 and will then decide if it is soundly based.

But just last week, the Communities Secretary, Eric Pickles, scrapped the East Midlands Strategy and gave control back to local communities saying "the flawed top-down targets of regional planning built nothing but resentment".

This should mean that it is Northampton Borough Council that has the final say on what gets built and those who care about protecting the countryside are demanding that councils like Northampton are given more time to put together their own local plan and avoid being blackmailed by developers on appeal.

CONCERN: One of the signs warning about the development that has appeared in East Hunsbury and inset, the story we ran about the scheme in last week's paper

School's play was 'tremendous'

WHAT a wonderful evening of entertainment was offered up by the students of Northampton School For Boys last Thursday evening at the Cripps Hall Theatre with their amateur production of The Jekyll & Hyde Musical.

I must admit that after the first five minutes I was a little apprehensive, but as their confidence obviously grew, so did their performance, and it simply got better and better.

The two leads, Jekyll and Hyde, were tremendous, the singing extraordinary good, in fact the entire cast, boys and girls were outstanding and deserve the highest praise, what a group of talented youngsters.

What a pity therefore that the theatre was only half full, they deserve far better than that.

Come on residents of Northampton, wake up and look around, you don't know what you are missing, there is great entertainment to be had locally other than Royal & Derngate, and it does not cost a fortune.

Support this venue and our local youngsters, and you like me will also be amazed to find youngsters with such quality and talent.

My sincere thanks to all those concerned with the production.

Theatre trip was disappointing

On Thursday, March 21 my wife and I joined a packed Royal & Derngate to both see and HEAR The Mousetrap.

Sitting in Row 'P' - only sixteen rows from the front - we could certainly SEE what was going on but along with many others we spoke to afterwards - could barely HEAR any of the dialogue.

Oh for the actors who used to be able to project their voices out to the audience.

But in this day and age that's hardly necessary when small clip on mics are readily available.

In fact we have been to musical shows at Royal & Derngate when the amplification has been deafening.

On numerous occasions the actors were actually whispering to each other and often facing away from the audience who were so quiet you could have heard a pin drop - but not unfortunately the cast. Several people actually fell asleep.

I have to say I did work out 'whodunnit' but I still fail to understand what it was all about?

I think we were all caught in the trap - at some expense.

Shock at PCC's new staff

I AM amazed that this new Police and Crime Commissioner can just quietly get away with his three appointments of election helpers as deputies.

Apparently the jobs were advertised - where, I wonder.

How many interviews took place? How many were shortlisted?

It is just too 'cosy' that all three happened to be just right for the job - with no police experience whatsoever?

Apparently Mr Simmonds is upset that criticism is coming in about this affair; he would rather we turn our attention on reduction of crime, but the two are not mutually exclusive and his actions leave a nasty smell about the police - our pillars of society.

It needs a good investigative journalist to look into this dreadful state of affairs.

Let's have more details about these appointments.

Mr Simmonds may claim "I am comfortable... these (people) can help me reduce crime in this county", but many of us are not comfortable that £195,000 is handed out to his friends in the process.

I would have preferred a few more actual police on the beat to reduce crime in this county.

Fear of 1,000 homes impact

■ As a resident of East Hunsbury who lives close to Rowtree Road my only real concern is the traffic issue. This road is already very busy at peak times and the addition of 1,000 plus houses that can only be accessed via Rowtree Road is going to make life very difficult for both existing and new residents. There are also two primary schools close to this road and I am concerned that the safety of small children walking to and from school will be compromised by the large increase in traffic.

■ Collingtree Park has suffered extensive flooding over the last seven years and this 'development' will simply put more houses at risk. We have protested against this 'development' for many years and the consensus is overwhelming AGAINST it happening.
mudrock61

■ As stated by Cllr Nunn, this would have a devastating impact on traffic on Rowtree Road adding nearly 10,000 additional car movements per day - Rowtree Road currently has 6,800 movements per day and is already choked at peak time. Local resident feedback to date indicates they are strongly opposed to the Bovis proposal, something we hope that Northampton Borough Council take note of should Bovis file a planning application

Ambulance station changes approved

BY SOPHIE SCOTT
sophie.scott@hpnorthants.co.uk

THERE will be just one 'fully equipped' ambulance station in the south of the county after major changes were agreed.

The East Midlands Ambulance Service (EMAS) met on Monday and decided on the proposals which would see a station in Northampton North become a 'hub'.

There will also be community ambulance stations in Northampton town centre, Towcester, Hardingstone, Daventry, New Duston, Great Billing, Potterspury, Great Doddington and Watford.

The plans were subject to lengthy consultations with staff and the proposals will come into effect over the next five years.

Chief executive Phil Milligan

(pictured) said: "The final recommendation was created after three months of consultation, and a further two and a half months of engagement allowing our staff and the public including other healthcare providers, councillors and MPs, to have their say and help to shape our plans."

"The way we operate now is simply not delivering the performance that local people deserve and national government expects."

He added: "These changes are on top of our announcement last week of 140 more frontline posts and a £120,000 investment in community defibrillators. Far from cutting costs, as has been the claim by some, EMAS is investing in public safety and frontline crews."

"Moving to a hub and spoke-model means that ambulances will be deployed more efficiently and will be nearer to patients."

"How do we know this? It's an approach that's already been successful in the rural south-west as well as the more urban West Midlands."

"This is not all about the bricks-and-mortar of ambulance stations - many of which were built on assumptions more than 50 years old."

Don't call 999 unless it's an emergency plea

EAST Midlands Ambulance Service is urging patients not to call them if they are not suffering from life threatening conditions.

Dr James Gray, EMAS's medical director, said:

"Common causes of calls are alcohol-related incidents and people with long-term conditions experiencing complications because they've run out of their medication."

"Unnecessary 999 calls can delay our response to someone who is in a life-threatening condition."

"That's why we'd encourage people to think about their health as they plan their holidays."

"When you're buying Easter eggs remember medicines too."

Trio jailed for burglary plans

BY SOPHIE SCOTT
sophie.scott@hpnorthants.co.uk

THREE South American men have been jailed for a total of 14 years.

The trio were charged with various offences, including conspiracy to burgle, between August 6, 2012 and November 15, 2012. Northampton was one of the areas they had considered targeting. They were jailed at Northampton Crown Court on Friday.

Columbian man Andres Duarte Careano, 40, was sentenced to five years for conspiracy to burgle and possession of fraudulent documents.

Oswaldo Francisco Clorio-Cruz, 30, from Mexico, was sentenced to five years for conspiracy to burgle and dangerous driving.

Raul Hernandez-Villaneva, 36, also of Columbia, was sentenced to four years for conspiracy to burgle and possession of a Class A drug, namely cocaine.

They were arrested in Leicestershire last November.

Detective Inspector Louise Fleckney said: "This investigation was complex, covering organised criminality across five force areas. A dedicated operation was set up and detectives worked painstakingly to piece together the evidential picture.

"We worked with teams from across the country, including Thames Valley, Hampshire, Wiltshire and Leicestershire in order to understand the range of offending.

"The sentencing reflects the seriousness of the offences, and communities are now protected from these offenders for a significant period of time."

26 accused of drug charges in court

TWENTY-SIX people have appeared in court charged with conspiracy to supply Class A drugs.

The 24 men and two women were arrested after raids last April which involved more than 150 officers from Northamptonshire Police.

The group appeared at Northampton Crown Court on Thursday on charges of conspiracy to supply a Class A drug, namely cocaine.

Four of the accused have pleaded guilty - they are Jane Calloway, of Southampton, Steven Payne, of Weedon Road, Nether Heyford, Thomas O'Brien, of Bugbrooke Road, Kissingbury, and Adrian Dowling, of Stowe Walk, Northampton.

The rest of the defendants have not indicated a plea, but prosecutor Claire Howell suggested a time frame for a potential trial was set.

Judge Rupert Mayo said a trial could last up to four months and was likely to take place between October to next April.

A plea and case management hearing for the remainder will happen in June.

The others who appeared in court were: Daniel Beasley 30, of The Square, Ears Barton; Sean Byrne 47, of Queens Road, Northampton; Trevor Hill 30, of Lowick Court, Moulton Leys; Christopher Jones, 24, of West Cotton Close, Northampton; Kevin Leighton, 34, of Hornby Road, Ears Barton, John Monteith, 26, of Walbeck Close, Northampton, Joseph O'Neill, 35, of Brockton Street, Northampton; Daniel Shrubbs 32, of Henry Bird Way, Northampton; Barry Toghil 27, of Morley Walk, Corby; Micha Walfall, 28, of Leys Road, Pattishall; Abdul Khan, 24, of Cowper Street, Northampton; Matthew MacLeod, 22, of Poplar Road, Kettering; Charmaine Calloway, 40, of Southampton; Craig Cummers, 28, of Southampton; Paul Hatcher, 32, of Southampton; Darryl Sims, 29, of Southampton; Mark Sims, 49, of Southampton; Daniel Taylor, 29, of Eastleigh; Cyrus Kazak, 49, of Waterbeach; Benjamin Ukaegbu, 31, of HMP Oakwood and Michael Wilson, 28, of HMP Shrewsbury.

Thomas Goff, 29, of Southampton, was not present in court but was also granted bail.

AT WORK: He Pin Zheng with his picture of Dongba Hieroglyphs

Old language talking to modern audience

BY LAWRENCE JOHN
lawrencejohn@hpnorthants.co.uk

A STUDENT with dyslexia has been inspired by an ancient picture language from South West China.

Tom George, 23, who is studying photography at the University of Northampton was one of seven learners who visited the Yunnan region to learn more about the Naxi people and their unique artwork called Dongba Script which centres around picture characters rather than the traditional Chinese language.

The group went out to the Far East to catalogue the ancient cave paintings in the Leaping Tiger Gorge.

Tom has taken the new language to heart and is now using it to write a diary.

He said: “For me it is a new visual medium and it is one which works towards my strength of pictures.

“I have always been interested in languages and this has given me an opportunity to go to another level.

“As soon as we started researching it I understood it.

“I think I may end up studying it further.”

Another of the lucky seven to go to China was fine art student

ARTIST: Yu Yung with his exhibit called The Scale

Zoe Plummer who said: "This language is thousands of years old."

"We were helping to interpret if the cave paintings were telling a story or they were depicting the type of animals the tribe hunted. We came to the conclusion they were showing what they hunted."

As a result of the visit, The university's Avenue Gallery at the St George's Avenue campus is holding the first exhibition of Naxi artwork in the UK.

The display, which runs until April 18, focuses on traditional carving, painting and drawing. All the works are done by modern Naxi artists.

Two of the artists whose work is being exhibited is He Pin Zheng and Yu Yung.

Zheng has produced a painting and ink based on Dongba Hieroglyphs which tells the tale of a good man who is looking for a wife and ends up going to heaven to meet her.

Yung's piece, called The Scale, is made from the Wuhua stone which comes from Lijiang region of China. It hangs by a rope and has been placed in a brown wooden case

The stone is one of the balances from a set of scales and symbolises both power and strength.

Get your hands on a case of Carlsberg property search is

Homesnow

www.homesnow.co.uk

TO celebrate the opening of Carlsberg UK's brand new bottling line facility in Northampton, the Herald & Post has teamed up with the brewing giant to offer three lucky readers the chance to win a case of its beer.

These are some of the first bottles to come off the production line and readers of the paper have a chance to get their hands on them.

The 'Carlsberg Cube' which opened this month at a cost of £60m, will double the output at the Bridge Street brewery which has been producing beer for the UK since the 1970s.

The bottling plant will produce 60,000 bottles of beer every hour and each week there would be enough to fill an Olympic sized swimming pool.

The facility is the same size as half a football pitch and it has been named the Carlsberg Cub following an internal competition amongst brewery employees. The Cube will bottle the full range of Carlsberg UK beers including Carlsberg Export, Tuborg, San Miguel, Fresca and the newly launched Somersby.

The 70,000 sq m plant has created 30 new jobs and was opened by Carlsberg Group's president and CEO Jorgen Buhl.

To enter the competition simply answer this question:

How much did the new Carlsberg Cube cost to build?

Send your answer, along with your name, age, address and daytime telephone number, to competitions@hpnorthants.co.uk

Winners must be over 18 and based in the UK.

Entries must reach us by April 8.

Not only is this an extremely beautiful building, it is also a very cost effective way of adding more indoor space to any home or business. This simple, yet stunning Scandinavian design sets these buildings apart from all others. Go on, be the envy of your friends on every and all days of the year.

Wimpey offers fixed part-exchange

MODERN LIVING:
A typical Montford kitchen

HOUSE-HUNTERS hoping to upgrade to a bigger and better home should make a beeline for Taylor Wimpey's Plot 90 Montford in Apple Blossom Crescent, Little Billing.

The five bedroom detached house is within a sought-after development and buyers can take advantage of the housebuilder's Part Exchange scheme.

Instead of worrying about selling, buyers can keep on living in their old property until their new home is ready, knowing that they have a guaranteed buyer without worrying if the property chain will collapse.

Regional sales and marketing director Mariana Knight said: "The Montford is a superb large detached property which offers generous accommodation across three floors and has been carefully designed for contemporary family lifestyles."

"Potential buyers should contact us without delay to avoid missing out."

The double-fronted property is priced at £329,995, including a landscaped garden. Rooms include a large diner or family room and a kitchen, which lead to the rear garden through French doors. On the ground floor there is also a study, a utility room and a guest cloakroom.

The first floor landing leads to a lounge with a Juliet balcony with a view of the garden. There are also two bedrooms and a main bathroom on this floor, with the two en-suite bedrooms and a further bedroom on the top floor.

The property benefits from a double garage and sufficient driveway parking for two vehicles.

Alternatively, there is a choice of four bedroom designs in the development priced from £229,995. All of the homes in Apple Blossom Crescent meet a high standard and have energy-efficient central heating, double glazing and a fitted kitchen with integrated oven, hob and hood.

With Part Exchange, qualifying customers are offered a fixed price for current properties based on the average of independent valuations. This ensures they know exactly how much they have to spend on their new home and can stay put until they are ready to move.

Amenities for everyday needs are within easy reach, including shops, schools, pubs and places to eat.

Northampton town centre is three miles away, while Sixfields leisure park, with a multi-screen cinema, bowling alley, gym, shops and restaurants, is easily accessible by car.

Apple Blossom Crescent is near to the A45 which leads to the M1 and Northampton railway station, which provides services to London Euston and Birmingham New Street. For more information call 0845 671 3284 or visit www.taylor-wimpey.co.uk/eastmids

FUNDRAISING: Judith Potter, deputy managing director of Persimmon Homes for the Midlands, is leading the project to raise money for charity

Developers raise money for Trust

ONE of the UK's leading housing developers has decided to raise vital funds for the Hannah Payne Memorial Trust after selecting it as the company's chosen charity for the year.

Persimmon Homes operates housing developments across Northamptonshire, Buckinghamshire and Bedfordshire.

The developers plan to hold a series of fundraising activities throughout the year to help support the work of the good cause.

The money raised will be put towards creating and maintaining family rooms in hospitals.

Deputy managing director for Persimmon Homes, Judith Potter, said: "The charity was one of the deserving causes nominated last year in Persimmon's 40th birthday competition.

"Although the Trust did not progress through to the final stage of the competition for one cause to win a £250,000 house, we were struck by the work done by the charity and its supporters.

"Each year we choose a charity to benefit from our corporate fundraising, so this year all our efforts will be focused on supporting The Hannah Payne Memorial Trust."

The first event the developers will be initiating is a 120-mile bike ride by site manager Andy Gordon and his lifelong friend Andy Chubb.

They plan to tour eight golf clubs in Buckinghamshire and Bedfordshire during two days in May. The Hannah Payne Memorial Trust was established after the tragic death of Hannah, a talented 17-year-old girl from Mears Ashby, Northamptonshire, in January 2006.

Its chairman, Julian Payne, said: "We are honoured to be the chosen charity for Persimmon Homes Midlands region.

"I am sure it will be a fantastic year with both sides benefitting from this partnership.

"Both the Trust and Persimmon Homes place a huge emphasis on serving the community in so many ways and in giving something back."

The charity supports friends and families of patients by providing comfortable, well-equipped areas in hospital.

In particular the money raised is planned to go towards the current work starting on the much-needed second Hannah Payne family room.

This will be built in the children's ward at Northampton General Hospital.

Sophie's living the High life

HIGH SOCIETY

Royal & Derngate

April 9-13

SOPHIE Bould has come a long way from being a star struck six-year-old who adored Dame Margot Fonteyn and wanted to be a ballerina.

It was two years later that the now accomplished actress realised it was on the stage where she felt at home.

In her career she has appeared in a number of plays including some for the Royal Shakespeare Company.

Sophie is now on a long tour with a production of Cole Porter's timeless classic High Society.

This musical is adapted from the hit 1956 film starring screen legends Bing Crosby, Grace Kelly and Frank Sinatra.

High Society fizzles with a host of beautiful ballads including True Love, You're Sensational and the unforgettable Well, Did You Evah! This uplifting, sparkling show proves Porter's classic musical style and effervescent wit will never go out of fashion.

Wealthy socialite Tracy Lord (Bould) is in the midst of planning a lavish summer wedding when her ex-husband, jazz musician Dexter Haven arrives to disrupt the proceedings in an attempt to try and win her back.

In a further twist, charming reporter Mike Connor, sent to cover the wedding, falls instantly for Tracy, and she for him. As the nuptials draw closer,

Tracy must choose between her three very different suitors.

Talking about her part, Sophie said: "For this role I researched the real character Tracy Lord is based on and she was a 1930s socialite, Helen Hope Montgomery Scott.

"I learnt as much as I could about what it was like living at that time especially for someone like her.

"I felt obliged to get the facts correct.

"This part was especially written for Katherine Hepburn in the Philadelphia Story and was played by Grace Kelly in the film True Love.

"When I was six years old I was fascinated by Margot Fonteyn and wanted to become a ballerina.

"I got my first taste of performing when I was eight years old and from that moment on I knew what I wanted to do.

"I like to do plenty of warming up and do running and vocal exercises before I go on stage.

"This is a long run as we started in January and will go on until July. I have to make sure I am physically fit and eat the right things.

"I am never really off stage in the two and a half hours of the production.

"I love performing and going on stage in front of hundreds of people.

"I like being part of a play which can keep audiences entertained.

"It is about creating a world for that moment and throwing yourself into it. I am so lucky to have this role."

N-Town's aiming to hit right notes

MUSIC

N-TOWN

Roadmender
April 19, 7.15pm

N-TOWN is back and bringing the best local musical talent to the stage.

The quartet of Luke Girvan (pictured), Korda Marshall, An Army of Lights and The Morning Chorus are set to burst into life next month.

The concert is different as it is organised by the bands and singers as a chance to showcase the best of Northampton musicians.

Organiser and singer, Girvan said: "I can't wait for the event as it will be really good with a strong line up of local bands. "There will be a mix of rock pop, indie and hard rock.

"I will be playing songs from my new album 'Take me to the Doctor' which was released last week.

"My new single is 'I love it when you dance for me' and later this year I will release 'Just need one shot'.

Luke, 24, who is a former member of Mutabilis (a Northampton band which was together from 2006-2011) believes his sound has got bigger since the group split up.

He said: "After I left the group I moved to London and was a session musician.

"I am still learning and developing and my music now includes a three-piece brass section.

"This is because I like my hooks and riffs and for some people I am the lighter side of rock while others think I am the harder side of pop.

"I am growing as a musician." Tickets are £8 on the door.

Hair-raising adventures for kids to enjoy

CRAZY HAIR

Royal & Derngate
April 3-7, 11am and 2pm

THIS is one show which young people are going to enjoy.

Youngsters and their families are invited to join a captivating adventure when a multi-sensory adaptation of Neil Gaiman's children's story Crazy Hair comes to town.

The fun and games begin when Bonnie finds herself so fascinated by Mister's wild hairstyle that she decides to try to tame it.

However, Mister feels his hair is misunderstood, and this leads to a bizarre adventure.

Bonnie and her comb jostle with puppets and pirates, hunters and hot air balloons, a musician and a mischievous monkey.

This enchanting show is a delight for all the senses. It is jam packed with memorable songs, fast-moving action, and brings the audience right up close to the performers.

Crazy Hair is presented by Bamboozle, the engaging and inventive theatre company. Both performances on Thursday, April 4 are specifically for families with children with special needs.

Tickets are £6.50, from 01604 624811.

NEW CAR REVIEW

Honda Civic Ti

WARMING TO ITS TASK

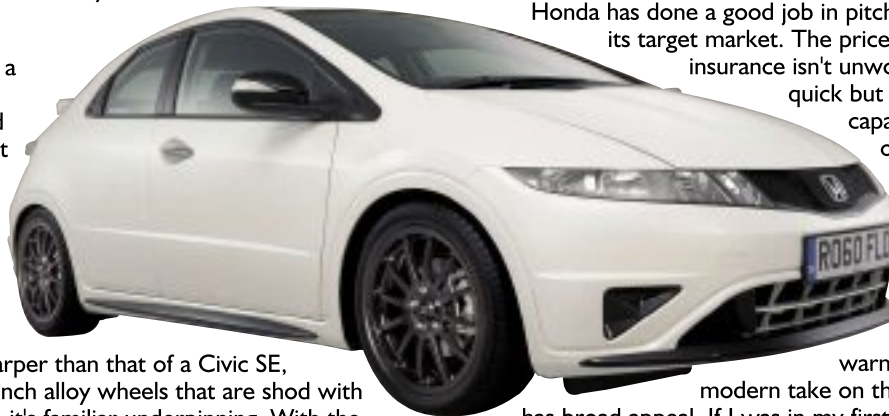

Although it might open itself to the accusation that it's all show and no go, but the Honda Civic Ti is a very nicely finished and strongly-equipped hatchback that won't have your insurer tacking zeros to your annual premium. The 1.8-litre engine gives it credible pace and it's a tidy handler.

The 142bhp 1.8-litre engine is quite a willing performer and loves revs, making peak power at 6500rpm and its modest peak torque of 174Nm at 4300rpm. All very Honda. It sounds good too, will notch off the 0-60 sprint in a reasonable 8.6 seconds and has the power to entertain on a cross country road.

The ride of the Civic Ti is a little sharper than that of a Civic SE, thanks in no small part to those 17-inch alloy wheels that are shod with lower profile tyres. Other than that, it's familiar underpinning. With the previous generation model, Honda played a clever trick. Beneath the radical styling sat a chassis setup that was, if anything, less complex than its predecessor's. Gone was the expensive multi-link rear suspension, replaced with a simple yet space-efficient torsion beam. This ninth generation car continues this theme, Honda reasoning that if it could make the feisty Type-R work, and work well, with a torsion beam rear, then there was clearly nothing wrong with the fundamental layout.

For most customers, the big draw of the Civic Ti is its exterior styling. There are three paint finishes to choose from - Milano Red, White Orchid Pearl and Alabaster Silver Metallic - but you still get some touring car-style Team Dynamics alloy wheels. These unique 17-inch 'Le Mans' rims are nicely framed by colour coded lipped wheel arches.

Honda has done a good job in pitching this Civic Ti about perfectly at its target market. The price is right, it looks great and the insurance isn't unworkable for youngish drivers. It's quick but not that quick, yet still has the capacity to entertain on a decent stretch of road. The i-VTEC engine sounds great at the top of its register yet returns decent fuel economy when driven more sedately.

Unless you really are a Type R fundamentalist, it's hard not to warm to the Civic Ti. It's a thoroughly modern take on the warm hatch theme and one which has broad appeal. If I was in my first decently-paid job and was looking for something to direct my newfound disposable income at, this would certainly be on the shortlist.

ALL NEW MITSUBISHI OUTLANDER

THE 7 SEAT 4WD WITH OVER 52 MPG¹

Mitsubishi Outlander available with 0% APR Representative Finance³

The new Mitsubishi Outlander may have a familiar name, but the vehicles are unrecognisable. They're more intelligent, economical, luxurious and safer than ever before - they come with a 5 star Euro NCAP rating. Manual variants achieve a minimum of 52mpg, yet produce no more than 140g/km of CO₂ - meaning that the road tax costs only £120¹. The automatic variants achieve over 48mpg, produce 153g/km of CO₂ and road tax of just £170². The GX5 model also comes complete with Collision Mitigation, Adaptive Cruise Control and Lane Departure Warning technology, so you can drive in safety and style without compromising performance.

We call this Intelligent Motion.

Your CV

When you send your CV off to a potential employer, remember that you won't be the only one. Hundreds of other people could be applying for the job as well.

So what are you going to do to make you stand out from the crowd? Why should an employer take a chance on you instead of someone else?

Your CV is your first real chance to sell yourself to a potential employer. Most employers will scan through a CV in about 30 seconds so you need to grab their attention from the start - and make them want to invite you for an interview.

There are five main areas to consider when writing your CV:

- Make sure your CV looks the part. Your CV should look clean and tidy - don't scrawl it out on a piece of A4 paper. If you haven't got access to a PC or printer, ask a friend or use your local library. Use a good quality paper and steer clear of fancy borders and front covers.

- Watch out for silly spelling and grammar mistakes. They make you look lazy and show employers that you don't really care. It's not difficult to do a spell check on your PC and if you're really stuck then don't just guess, reach for a dictionary. Get a friend to read through your CV for you - a second opinion is always useful.

- Make sure your CV is well organised. When you list your previous jobs, make sure the dates are correct and try not to leave any gaps. If you took time out to go travelling then say so - employers won't mark you down just because you've tried something new.

- Don't waffle. Remember that employers don't have time to read every word of your CV. Long paragraphs and sentences put people off, so try bullet-points to break up text. Make sure your CV is no longer than two pages long - employers don't want your life history, they just want to see that you've got what it takes to do the job.

- Don't list any failures. Employers have enough trouble finding someone who is right for the job - they don't need help finding reasons not to employ you. If you have to include a mistake from your past, make sure you show the employer that you learnt something from the experience.

Keep it simple

Personal details

Start off with your full name, address, home and mobile phone numbers and email address. If you are offered an interview, the employer will want to get hold of you so give him as many options as possible.

Summary/professional profile

This is the No1 area for selling yourself. Set out your main skills and personal qualities but keep it interesting and tight - one paragraph should do to cover everything.

Education and qualifications

List your qualifications and education history, with the most recent first. You don't need to list the grades for each exam you have passed unless they were exceptional results - simply listing the number and type of exams you've passed is fine. Also, list any relevant professional organisations you belong to and training courses you have been on.

Work experience

Start with your most recent position and work backwards, giving addresses along with start and finish dates. Set out your main responsibilities, duties and most importantly achievements, along with any skills you picked up or improvements you made while you were there. This is a really important section in your CV so make it count - but don't waffle.

If you have not had a full-time job before, detail any part-time jobs you may have held or any placement you have been on.

Other skills

Set out any computer skills you may have and the software you are most familiar with. Can you type, do shorthand or speak a foreign language fluently? If you have a driving licence, let the employer know. If it's clean, tell them.

Interests & hobbies

Briefly list what you get up to in your spare time. Put down any positions you hold in clubs or associations, along with any responsibilities and achievements.

References

Make sure you have at least two people (including one from your previous or current job) who will tell an employer what a thoroughly nice person you are and what a potential asset to the company you would be.

If you want to list them now make sure you include their name, job title, postal & e-mail address and contact phone numbers. Alternatively, just put "Available on request" so the employer knows to follow up references at a later date.

Add a covering letter

The main aim of a covering letter is to encourage an employer to give you a chance. You want them to read your CV, so sell it to them. You should always enclose a covering letter when applying for a job - most employers won't consider you unless you do.

A covering letter should let the employer know why you are interested in the job and why you think you can do it.

The hints and tips below should point you in the right direction:

- Keep it simple. A covering letter should be short and to the point - no more than six paragraphs.

- Mention the job. If you are replying to an advert, mention what the job is and where you saw it. The company may be advertising for other positions and it may not be clear which job you are applying for.

- Sell yourself. Explain why you are the perfect candidate for the job. Show off your strengths and experience. Refer to your CV - if it goes missing then at least an employer will know that you've sent it.

- Check it for mistakes. A silly spelling mistake in a covering letter is likely to cost you your chance of getting an interview. Also, make sure it is addressed to the right person in the right department.

A covering letter can be just as important as a CV in getting you an interview. It's your first point of contact with your potential employer - so make it count.

Podium for MacDowall

TOURING CARS

ALEX MacDowall claimed Bamboo Engineering's first-ever podium finish in the World Touring Car Championship at the opening round of this year's series in Italy on Sunday.

The 22-year-old driver for the Silverstone-based team had qualified third for race one at a wet Monza, bringing the car home in the same position to secure their maiden WTCC podium and the race win in the Yokohama Independents Trophy.

Race two saw MacDowall retire after suffering a puncture to his Chevrolet Cruze one lap from the end, having been running down the field due to an off-track excursion.

Team mate James Nash took two second place finishes in the Independents Trophy, putting him top of the early drivers standings in that class.

Manx date for Maria

MOTORCYCLING

MARIA Costello MBE will contest this year's the Isle of Man TT and the Ulster Grand Prix with Bob Wylie Racing after agreeing a deal to ride for the team in 2013.

The Spratton racer will also compete on Wylie's Honda NSF250 Moto3 bike that she rode to seventh at Walderstown and eighth in Ulster during the 2012 road racing season.

Costello's first outing for the team will be on the Triumph at back-to-back short circuit races at Bishopscourt and Kirkistown over the Easter weekend, and she is looking forward to racing for Wylie again.

"The 675R has the potential to be a brilliant race bike and I get to race the Moto3 bike again," said Costello. "They're great bikes and it's a fantastic opportunity. I'm very excited about this season, what with these and the other rides I have planned."

Double KO for Force

FORMULA ONE

SAHARA Force India suffered an enforced double retirement in Sunday's Malaysian Grand Prix at Sepang after both cars had problems with the wheel nuts during pit stops.

The Silverstone-based team had been aiming to repeat the double points scoring finish from the Formula One season opener in Australia the week before and hopes were high of at least one top ten finish after Adrian Sutil qualified ninth.

However, both he and team mate Paul di Resta ended up being pulled out of the race due to problems at pit stops which meant the crew experienced major problems while trying to fit new tyres due to faulty wheel nuts.

"We're not sure exactly what happened yet so the team stopped the cars to make sure we understand the issue," said Sutil. The team have three weeks to address it before the Chinese Grand Prix on April 14.

Lane aims to show he can be a Master

■ Ash Lane (left) has been sparring with old foe Michael Ramabeletsa

BOXING

BY MARC BAZELEY

marc.bazeley@hpnorthants.co.uk

ASH Lane is ready to put months of upheaval behind him and show he deserves to be considered as one of the top super bantamweights in the country when he faces Josh Wale for the vacant British Masters belt in Barnsley tomorrow night.

Since beating Harvey Hemsley in his last fight in September, the former Far Cotton Boys amateur has endured some tough times. A hand injury sustained in that bout put his boxing ambitions temporarily on hold, while outside of the ring he lost his job two months ago.

Lane has since relocated from Northampton to Walsall where he is living with a friend and is closer to trainer Bob Plant's Wednesbury gym. Despite his recent struggles, the 22-year-old remains optimistic.

"I've had no money and I haven't been able to find a job yet, so I've just dedicated myself fully to boxing," said Lane.

"At times I could have stopped and come back to Northampton to live with my dad and waited for another fight, but I've been getting up every morning, no matter how cold it is, going out running and then going to the gym in the evening.

"If it wasn't for everything that has happened, I don't think I would have trained so diligently and hard, or kept on top of my diet as much as I have - not that I don't train hard anyway.

"I've done everything my coaches have asked me to do, and sometimes even more than they have asked. I'm the first one in the gym and the last to leave, and there have been times they've had to tell me to stop and go home. I just keep going because when I'm ready for a fight my fitness is really high."

It has certainly not been easy for Lane (3-2-2) since he chose to join the paid ranks in 2011. Defeats to Jonathan Fry, where he was stopped due to a cut above his eye, and a one-point loss to Michael Ramabeletsa in a fight he felt he won still clearly rankle.

Both he and Ramabeletsa engaged in some banter on Facebook in the wake of that result, but when Lane was invited down to Bristol to spar with Lee Haskins before his European title fight against Stephane Jamoye he met the West Country-based South African again.

Since then, Lane and Ramabeletsa have been having regular sparring sessions, with the latter facing a tough fight of his own on Saturday night when he takes on unbeaten prospect Khalid Yafai.

Wale's most recent bout saw him challenge Stuart Hall for the Commonwealth bantamweight strap in November, being stopped in the ninth round, while he has also shared a ring with up-and-comers Kid Galahad and Willie Casey.

Lane is in little doubt he faces arguably the biggest test of his professional career when he takes on 'The Outlaw' (14(7)-5-1) over ten rounds at the Metrodome, but also feels he has been underestimated.

"They've looked at my record and probably think it is going to be an easy return for him, but I'm going to show that I belong at this level," he said.

Brown on form ahead of championship

DREW Brown warmed up for his tilt at this year's Junior ABAE Championship with a unanimous decision victory over Small Heath ABC's Michael Maughan in Birmingham on Saturday night.

The Far Cotton Boys ABC fighter will enter at 59kg and is one of four fighters from the Towcester Road gym, along with club mates Kyle Owen and the Fail twins, Ben and Carl, who is competing in the 2013 edition.

Far Cotton coach Rob Brennan was impressed with Brown's performance on Maughan's home show, giving the 16-year-old the perfect boost ahead of his challenge for national honours which starts next month.

"Drew boxed very well throughout the bout and won every round," said Brennan. "He is in good form going into the Junior Championship."

The youngest of the Fail brothers, Aaron, was also in action on the show. However, he suffered a majority decision defeat in a contest which Brennan felt he had done enough to win.

Three Far Cotton boxers were fighting at Bedworth's Newdigate Colliery & District Sports & Social Club on the same night, with veteran Luke Sherwood scoring a third round stoppage win over Newdigate ABC's Jackson White on the top of the bill fight.

It was the 35-year-old's first fight for over a year and head coach John Daly was pleased to see Sherwood produce a fine performance after a long time out of the ring.

"Luke works as a lawyer and he can't always get down to training because it can get quite busy at times, so that's why he hasn't fought for a while," said Daly.

"There were 15 fights and he was top of the bill, so he was a bit nervous beforehand. But it was a great fight and they were both landing some big shots.

"The ref stopped it because of a cut over White's eye. I don't like to see stoppages because of cuts, but Luke was winning anyway and his opponent didn't complain."

Club mate Lewis Roberts also stopped his opponent, Mushtaq Davod, in the second round. Roberts had given Davod, of Coventry Boys ABC, a standing eight count before unleashing another flurry of punches to trigger the stoppage.

The other Far Cotton victor in Bedworth was Ronny May, winning by unanimous decision against Newdigate's Elliott Jellis.

Pisi wants end to Leicester hoodoo

RUGBY UNION

BY MARC BAZELEY
marc.bazeley@hpnorthants.co.uk

GEORGE Pisi has yet to taste victory against Leicester Tigers in a Northampton Saints shirt, but the centre believes Saturday's East Midlands Derby at Franklin's Gardens gives him the perfect opportunity to change that.

The Saints head into the clash against their local rivals on the back of four consecutive Aviva Premiership wins, with last Saturday's nailbiting 26-24 victory away to London Wasps moving them four points clear of the pack chasing to break into the top four.

Second placed Leicester are the same margin ahead of Northampton in second place, with a top two finishing guaranteeing a home semi-final for the play-offs.

His three previous games against the Tigers have seen Pisi on the losing side, including the 16-12 defeat at Welford Road in November. However, he sees this match as the game to banish that unwanted record.

"It's a local derby and I think we owe Leicester one," said Pisi. "We've come up short against them a couple of times and they beat us at their home ground, so now it's our turn to have a crack at them on ours."

"The intensity is there and everything else is there, but a couple of times we have been unlucky with the bounce of the ball where it has gone their way. As you can see against Wasps, our luck is changing and it's starting to come towards us."

"It really comes down to doing the basic things well and the little tricks out the back come naturally."

These matches are typically fiery affairs, as this weekend's referee Wayne Barnes is well aware. He was in charge of the infamous 2011 Premiership semi-final between the sides which is mostly remembered for the fight between Chris Ashton and Manu Tuilagi.

But director of rugby Jim Mallinder does not believe his players will have any problems keeping their emotions in check when they take to the field this time.

"It's something you've got to talk about, but generally the players are learning," said Mallinder. "We've got experienced players who have played in a number of big games – not just against Leicester but in European and international games."

"The experience is there and it's very easy for us to talk about it, but you know once you get into that 80 minutes it's a completely different story. You've got to make sure you play to the very edge, but don't go over it."

"I don't think we need to get emotional. It's easy to say this a few days before the game, but come Saturday we'll know exactly where we are."

"It is a big game and it is Leicester, but for us it's where we are and it's about winning and getting another win."

For his part, the laid-back Pisi does not have time to get wrapped up in the emotion of Derby Day as he finds the games pass so quickly as the intensity and physicality mean he always has to keep focussed.

The 26-year-old is looking forward to the challenge Leicester's back division will pose, picking out Anthony Allen, Toby Flood and Tuilagi as the danger men to watch out for.

He is also relishing the prospect of going up against good friend Tuilagi, who was born in Samoa like Pisi but instead opted to represent adopted nation England at international level.

"It's always a good challenge," said Pisi. "On the field we are enemies, but off the field we are good mates."

"They're a strong back line with a lot of big runners. It's going to be a good test for us as a back line, but also an exciting time."

NSG earn final place

BASKETBALL

NORTHAMPTON School for Girls are into the final of the Dynamik Under-17 Girls School Championship after completing an aggregate 121-93 victory over Loreto Sixth Form College.

NSG won the first leg 57-55 at the Amaechi Basketball Centre in Manchester and were confident going into the second leg last week. Karen Goodrich's team produced a dominant performance in that match, running out 64-38 victors.

Lois Bain turned in an excellent defensive performance while Amy Boot and Sarah Round controlled the back court leading to a number of easy scores for Steph Ogden.

The final on Saturday, April 6 sees NSG face formidable opponents in the form of Greig City Academy from Haringey. Greig reached the final after defeating Shoeburyness High School in the semis.

Meanwhile, Round is one of just two English players invited to a FIBA European training camp in Postojna, Slovenia, in July. Only two players from each of the European federation's member nations are nominated to attend the camps.

Round, who also plays for the under-14 and 15 girls teams of Northants Basketball Club, was nominated by governing body England Basketball.

Four face 'Bad Boy'

BOWLS

KINGSTHORPE IBC's mens' fours rink face a Torquay United IBC team which includes one of the most infamous names in the sport, Griff Sanders, in the National Championship Finals at Nottingham IBC on Sunday.

Sanders, formerly the self-styled 'Bad Boy of Bowls', attained a level of celebrity when he was banned for ten years in 1998 after insulting Devon county secretary John Smerdon.

That ban was subsequently overturned on appeal and in 2003 a film based on his story, 'Blackball', was released with Paul Kaye playing Sanders-inspired lead character Cliff Starkey.

Sanders is a talented bowler in his own right, having been part of the Torquay United rink which won the National Triples Championship two years ago.

The Kingsthorpe four are Andrew Manton, Ben Sharpe, Mick Sharpe and Neil McKee. Along with Sanders, their opponents are McKee's England team mate Jamie Chestney, Joe Melmore and Craig Down. The winners face either Spalding IBC or St Neots IBC in the last 16.

Kingsthorpe's mixed team bowed out of the National Top Club competition at the quarter final stage to Weymouth club Moonfleet IBC on shots difference after the tie ended at eight points each.

Kingsthorpe won the mens' and womens' singles, as well as the fours, while Moonfleet took victory in the pairs and triples events. Both sides were level on points, but the Dorset club progressed to the semis with an 85-68 shot win.

Tollen happy despite early exit

RUGBY SEVENS

MOULTON College bowed out in the group stages of last week's 2013 Rosslyn Park HSBC National Schools Sevens but skipper Alex Tollen still had a smile on his face despite missing out on the knockout stages by a whisker.

Tollen, who plays club rugby for Old Northamptonians, and his team-mates were placed in an extremely competitive qualifying pool, which included perennial qualifiers Sedbergh School.

Moulton College won three of their four fixtures; 19-12 against Pocklington School, 50-0 against Richmond upon Thames College and 26-17 against Ysgol Gyfun Bro Morgannwg but lost the pool decider 45-0 against Sedbergh School.

Despite a frustrating experience at Rosslyn Park, Tollen insists playing against some of the UK's best rugby schools can only help his side's development.

"It's been a really good first experience," said Tollen. "Our goals coming down here were just to enjoy ourselves mainly and just have a good time and hopefully progress through. In recent years we haven't got through to the next day."

"As a team we've played quite well, our second game was a bit of shocking game for us really but overall we've played quite well."

"There's lots of spacemw to run in 7s compared to 15s and you're not as under pressure to sprint into contact the whole time, you get more time on the ball and more time to look up and pass it."

"This is a first year team and I've got next year to play as well so hopefully I'll be picked for that and hopefully come back down here."

Case and Bailey ready for Towcester

HORSE RACING

IN-FORM county trainers Ben Case and Caroline Bailey will be looking to defy the elements and land a local blow when Towcester stages its Easter Sunday fixture, with the first race due off at 2.10pm.

With a handful of entries on the card, Wardington Gate Farm handler Case will be looking to strike with Beblinn, Beyond The Wall and Percy's Reflection, while Bailey will be hopeful that Malapie can take the opening 2m novices' hurdle.

Mindful of the weather, Case is keeping his options open as both Beblinn, second to Va'Vite at the Northants track earlier this month, and Percy's Reflection, are also entered up at Plumpton on Sunday. Yet Towcester remains the first choice.

Bailey has been a virtual stranger to Towcester this season but this has only been because the race framework has not suited many of her string.

"We always like to have runners at Towcester whenever we can," said Bailey. "It makes perfect sense for us and we always have a good day out with the locals."

The Cheltenham Festival helped to throw up an intriguing piece of form surrounding the five-year-old Malapie, a 25/1 winner on soft ground at Wetherby in early December. Briar Hill, the Willie Mullins-trained and Ruby Walsh-ridden 25/1 winner of the championship bumper, only defeated Malapie by three lengths when the pair clashed in a point to point at Necarne last May.

Cropley Lawn handler Paul Webber has been eyeing Towcester for Endofdiscussion but the six-year-old may have to cede second best to Quayside Court from Claire Dyson's yard.

New boy Cameron out to help Town seal promotion

FOOTBALL

BY MARC BAZELEY

marc.bazeley@hpnorthants.co.uk

NATHAN Cameron has only been with Northampton Town for one day, yet the on-loan defender already sees plenty of reasons to be optimistic the Cobblers can achieve promotion from League Two this season.

The 21-year-old moved to Sixfields until the end of the season from League One outfit Coventry City following the news Kelvin Langmead will be out for several weeks after needing surgery on a knee injury sustained in the 1-0 win over Oxford United.

Cameron already has one promotion under his belt, having helped Nuneaton Town to victory in the Southern League Premier Division play-off final in 2010 while on loan there, and sees some similarities between the sides.

"There was a great atmosphere in the squad," said Cameron. "Everyone was so together and I can see signs of that here. Everyone seems really positive throughout the place, not just in the squad but with the fans as well."

"I think everyone feels that this could be a special season and could be big for the club. Hopefully it will be."

"They're only two points off second, so I think we've got a great chance in our last seven games to really push on and hopefully get promoted."

Cameron jumped at the chance to move to Northampton after finding his opportunities with the Sky Blues limited under new manager Steven Pressley. It reunites him with former Coventry boss Aidy Boothroyd, who was a big admirer of Cameron's ability during his spell in charge at the Ricoh Arena.

■ New signing Nathan Cameron is optimistic about Northampton Town's promotion chances (Picture: Andy Handley)

"He was one of the stand out players of my time at Coventry," said Boothroyd. "He is an England Under-19 international and he has all the attributes required to be a top class defender."

"Sometimes young players lose their way a little and a change of scene can do them the world of good and I have a lot of faith in Nathan's ability."

Despite being just 21, Cameron has already made over 50 appearances in a City shirt. However, he is out of contract with the financially troubled club at the end of the season.

Cameron insists his only focus is on getting game time while at Northampton, where he will link up with former Coventry team mates Clive Platt and Roy O'Donovan.

He is in line for his debut in tomorrow night's match at home to Torquay United and is looking forward to working with Boothroyd again.

"He gave me my debut at the age of 18 and he has been a key figure in my career," said Cameron. "I've got a lot of respect for him and I think he's got a lot of respect for me."

"He was a massive reason why I wanted to come here. Maybe if it was another manager it might have been a different story, but I was happy to join up with him again."

Pisi backs scrum half Fotuali'i to be Northampton's next Samoan star

GEORGE Pisi believes fellow Samoan international Kahn Fotuali'i will prove an instant hit at Northampton Saints when he moves to Franklin's Gardens for the start of next season.

The 30-year-old is rated by many pundits as one of the best scrum halves in the world and has caught the eye with some impressive performances for Welsh regional side Ospreys in both the RaboDirect Pro 12 and Heineken Cup.

Pisi, who has played alongside Fotuali'i for the national team and gave him some advice before the move to Northampton was agreed, is delighted he will be on board and expects him to make an immediate impact.

"He'll bring a lot of experience and a lot of physicality," said Pisi. "He's a really exciting player and it's a good thing for our team."

"He asked me how it was over here and all I gave him was good comments about Northampton. He enjoys the team and he's seen the environment, and hopefully when he comes to Northampton he'll excel as he is at the moment."

"He's kind of like me. He keeps a smile on his face all the time, he has good banter with the boys and he'll bring something to the team next year."

Fotuali'i is not the only international joining the Saints next season. Props Alex Corbisiero and Saleisi Ma'afu, who have been capped for England and Australia respectively, are also moving to the Gardens.

Northampton are believed to be close to agreeing a deal to sign Wales winger George North from Scarlets as well, while Pisi believes those already signed show the club's ambitions.

"We want to be the best team in the world and we want to compete with other clubs, so to be the best we've got to try and get the best players and see how they work out with those we have got at the moment," said Pisi.
